

HELLO!

My name is Effie and I am twelve years old. I come from Chania, a city built in the north-west of Crete, the largest island in Greece. I am in the first grade of senior High school and I have many hobbies. I really enjoy playing volleyball. I also like dancing, (latin and oriental or traditional dance), listening to music, reading books (especially novels) and drawing. In addition in my free time I meet with my friends and go to the cinema or just a walk with them.

I come from a family of four, including my parents, my sister Andriana and me. My mother works as a teacher in Senior High school whereas my father is a businessman. He owns a hotel named "Doreen". We have now lived there for two years. Andriana is a year younger than me. She is eleven years old and goes to Primary school. She spends most of her spare time making handicrafts. We get on very well with each other. We play board games (such as Monopoly and Blokus) together and sometimes I help her with her crafts and homework, too.

Well, that's all about me. What about you? What are your hobbies? Have you got any siblings? How many are there in your family? I am looking forward to receiving your next e-mail.

Your keypal,
Effie
